

Now we're 21,000,000

AUSTRALIA'S population reached the 21 million mark last night.

Officially, the population increases by one person every one minute and 45 seconds.

According to the Australian Bureau of Statistics, a child is born every one minute and 56 seconds, there is a death every three minutes and 59 seconds, and a net increase in migration every three minutes and 15 seconds.